SUMMARY

I'm a front-end developer, who started coding as a R-Ladie (I did part of my PhD with R statistical language). Seeking to leverage my technical and professional expertise to learn and grow in the new role of full-stack developer. This transition is mostly inspired by an open source project that I work as collaborator (with PHP, MySQL and React.js).

I'm proactive and I have large experience in oral presentations, mentoring and teaching in three idioms (english, french and portuguese).
